

The Ellingham Family Forum

Don't forget that our next termly Ellingham Family Forum meeting will take place on Friday 9th June 2017 from 2 – 3 pm. It will provide an opportunity for parents, carers and other family members who have a regular connection with the school to have their say on matters that affect them and help the school to make decisions that are beneficial for all.

Thanks to the previous Forum we have managed to secure improvements in the areas of school photos, homework and the clubs and school meals booking systems.

Please submit any questions, comments and ideas in written form prior to the meeting so that we can give the necessary thought and time to the issues and give answers where possible. The school office will be happy to receive items for discussion via email or letter. It would be helpful if you could name any item you submit. Please see below for the rules of the Forum, which were agreed by attendees at the first meeting. All are welcome - please put this date in your diary and attend if you can.

Thank you for your continuing support,

Mrs Pakes

School liaison and community engagement leader

Rules of the Forum:

The names of individuals who have submitted items will not be used on the agenda or in the Forum meeting unless the person wishes to make this known.

The school understands that some people would prefer to remain anonymous, and will accept anonymous submissions, although names would be useful in the event of items requiring clarification or possibly rewording.

The school reserves the right to omit items that are sent anonymously, if we consider it appropriate to do so.

The school reserves the right to omit references considered to be potentially hurtful to members of the school community, and are therefore better dealt with privately with an appropriate member of staff.

The school will not use opinions that are unclear in origin or attributed to people other than the person submitting the item.
