Members of the school council met last Friday to discuss, and spend, their budget. Having carried out a health and safety audit throughout the school they decided that there is a need for more playground equipment, in particular balls. Having scrutinised the catalogue to ensure value for money, I was extremely impressed with their budgeting as they spent £196.80 of their £200.

Our computer course for parents began this week and I have already received some very positive feedback about this. There are still places available, so if you would like further details, or to sign up, please contact the office.

This term we will be discussing the Olympic and Paralympic values in assemblies and, on Monday, the children were set a challenge to find out what they are. Below are the ten children who correctly identified the values as: determination, respect, courage, friendship, equality, excellence and inspiration. They are modelling their prizes, Olympic wristbands with the slogan 'Better Never Stops' on.
